The Death of Expertise: What the Campaign Against Established Knowledge Means for You

Speaker: Thomas M. Nichols, PhD, Professor, U.S. Naval War College

People are now exposed to more information than ever before, provided both by technology and by increasing access to every level of education. As a result, with only a quick trip through WebMD or Wikipedia, average citizens believe themselves to be on an equal intellectual footing with everyone from doctors to diplomats -- and increasingly, these traditional markers of expertise are being challenged. Author and national security affairs expert Thomas M. Nichols, PhD, will explore this trend, noting that when ordinary citizens believe that no one knows more than anyone else, democratic institutions themselves are becoming endangered.

Topics will be offered concurrently and participants simply attend the forum of greatest interest to them.
