

Physician Alert

“Notice to Consumers” regulation now in effect

Effective June 27, 2010, physicians in California must inform their patients that they are licensed by the Medical Board of California, and include the Board’s contact information. The information must read as follows.

NOTICE TO CONSUMERS

Medical doctors are licensed and regulated by the Medical Board of California

(800) 633-2322

www.mbc.ca.gov

This regulation, Title 16, California Code of Regulations section 1355.4, was approved by the Medical Board, and mandated by Business and Professions Code section 138. The purpose of this new requirement is to inform consumers where to go for information or with a complaint about California medical doctors.

Physicians may provide this notice by one of three methods:

- Prominently posting a sign in an area of their offices conspicuous to patients, in at least 48-point type in Arial font.
- Including the notice in a written statement, signed and dated by the patient or patient’s representative, and kept in that patient’s file, stating the patient understands the physician is licensed and regulated by the Board.
- Including the notice in a statement on letterhead, discharge instructions, or other document given to a patient or the patient’s representative, where the notice is placed immediately above the signature line for the patient in at least 14-point type.

The three options are designed to serve a multitude of practice settings, including emergency departments, skilled nursing facilities, and surgical settings. In every setting where they practice, physicians are responsible for compliance with this regulation, not the facility. In a group setting, only one sign must be posted, should the physicians choose that option, but it must be one that each patient can see. The Board expects a good-faith, common-sense interpretation and compliance with this regulation.

The sign may be downloaded from the Board’s Web site at www.mbc.ca.gov; click on “Notice to Consumers Regulation” on the homepage under “WHAT’S NEW”. More information about this regulation also is available there.

While the response from physicians’ offices to our Board has been overwhelmingly conciliatory and cooperative to

The mission of the Medical Board of California

The mission of the Medical Board of California is to protect health care consumers through proper licensing and regulation of physicians and surgeons and certain allied health care professions and through the vigorous, objective enforcement of the Medical Practice Act, and, to promote access to quality medical care through the Board’s licensing and regulatory functions.

President's Report

Recent news articles in the Los Angeles Times ("Free health clinic treats 1,200 patients on opening day," April 27, 2010) and the Ventura County Star ("Doctors pull extra shifts at crowded free clinics," April 30, 2010) have highlighted the voluntary work of various medical professionals at free clinics in the Los Angeles area. I know I speak for the entire Medical Board of California when I express my pride upon reading of these efforts by our Board's licensees and other health care professionals. We are all in this together, and while I trust our volunteering physicians will proceed carefully, I thank you and encourage your ongoing community service.

Barbara Yaroslavsky
President of the Board

Of course providing health care to the needy in our society has always been a concern, but in the last few years during our nation's economic downturn, the need for accessible and competent health care has dramatically escalated. For many years our Board has attempted to address this problem, both through our Physician Loan Repayment Program (now known as the Steven M. Thompson Physician Loan Repayment Program and administered by the Health Professions Education Foundation), and through the work of our Access to Care Committee.

Our Board and the California Medical Association (CMA) are sponsoring SB 1031 (Corbett), which would create the Volunteer Insured Physicians Program to provide medical malpractice insurance to encourage physicians to volunteer their services in the interests of expanding access to health care. The services covered would be general medicine or family practice-level care. The Board and the CMA are pursuing this bill to create a method of providing general malpractice insurance to physicians who would otherwise volunteer their services if the cost of maintaining malpractice insurance were not an impediment. California is one of seven states in the U.S. that does not have a program to cover physicians who provide unpaid, voluntary services.

I would like to add a few words about the work of our re-established Operation Safe Medicine (OSM) – a staff of five Medical Board investigators and one office technician whose work is devoted to proactively addressing the ongoing problems with unlicensed activity and also the corporate practice of medicine. This operation originally was established in 2000, following highly publicized cases in Southern California involving injury and death at the hands of unlicensed individuals (for more information on this topic, please see our July 2009 newsletter, available at www.mbc.ca.gov/publications/newsletter_2009_07.pdf). In fiscal year 2002-2003, due to budget constraints, the OSM positions were transferred to maintain staffing levels in other Medical Board enforcement offices.

After the Board appealed formally to the state budgeting process, OSM was reinstated for a two-year trial basis one year ago – very good news for consumer protection, and for physicians who see the results of the unlicensed practitioners whom OSM targets. The Board has been particularly concerned about the increase in unlicensed activity in the area of cosmetic procedures. OSM's reinstatement will require the Board to re-justify the need to retain it to the Department of Finance based on its workload. Within the past year, OSM has been assigned approximately 80 consumer complaints of unlicensed or unsafe practice. As specialists, OSM investigators are educating district and city attorneys regarding the laws pertaining to the practice of medicine. We value the work of this dedicated unit and hope our licensees understand its importance to their practices and their patients, as well.

Medical Board of California hires new executive director

The Medical Board of California has hired its interim executive director to serve as its executive director. Linda Whitney, of Sacramento, had formerly served as the Board's chief of legislation. She was appointed as the Board's interim executive director in January.

"The Medical Board has been impressed with Ms. Whitney's performance as interim executive director and is confident in her ability to continue to promote the Board's public-protection mandate in her day-to-day decisions as executive director," said Board President Barbara Yaroslavsky.

Ms. Whitney has worked for several of the Department of Consumer Affairs' boards and bureaus since 1975. She has worked for the Medical Board since 1994 in a variety of capacities, including administrative management and as chief of legislation, promoting the Board's mission as its liaison at the State Capitol.

date, the members of the Medical Board understand that some physicians may not be entirely pleased with this new requirement. The Board was mandated by Business and Professions Code section 138 to promulgate this regulation. Our Board's Education Committee deliberated on this issue for a period of years, taking input from the public and the medical profession. After careful and lengthy discussion on this issue, the Board voted unanimously to pass the regulation, mindful not to require terms such as "complaint" or "problems" in the mandated language. The Physician Assistant Committee and the Osteopathic Medical Board of California are considering a similar regulation, and DCA's Board of Podiatric Medicine has a like requirement in the regulatory process.

Revised 2008 Licensed Midwife Annual Report

The Board wishes to bring to the attention of our readers revisions to the Medical Board's "2008 Licensed Midwife Annual Report Summary," published in the Board's 2008-2009 Annual Report on page iv.

The new figures are the result of changes from late reports filed after the aggregate Annual Report Summary was originally released June 12, 2009, as well as corrections from original reporters who filed revised reports.

In particular, please note changes in the figures for fetal and maternal deaths —

Legislator profile

Senator Ellen Corbett

Senator Ellen M. Corbett (D-San Leandro) was elected to the Senate in 2006.

Senator Corbett represents the 10th Senate District, which includes Castro Valley, Fremont, Hayward, Milpitas, Newark, Pleasanton, San Jose, San Leandro, San Lorenzo and Union City.

She is chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and serves on the following committees: Appropriations; Budget; Business, Professions and Economic Development; Energy, Utilities and Communications; Environmental Quality and Legislative Ethics. Senator Corbett also chairs the Biotechnology and Earthquake and Disaster Preparedness Select committees and sits on the Mobile and Manufactured Homes Select Committee.

Among Senator Corbett's legislative actions that affect Medical Board licensees, she authored SB 1031, which addresses medical malpractice insurance and volunteer physicians and surgeons. If passed, this bill would be known and cited as the Volunteer Insured Physicians (VIP) Act and would provide specified medical malpractice insurance coverage to volunteer physicians providing uncompensated care to patients pursuant to a contract with a qualified health care entity. The bill would provide unspecified funding for the program from the Contingent Fund of the Medical Board of California for a limited period of time. The Board will publish information on this bill as it moves through the legislative process.

During her six years in the Assembly and term in the Senate, Senator Corbett has authored landmark legislation, including creating a cash back for gift cards program, giving consumers more information about bottled water, and updating the Americans with Disabilities Act.

She has a long history of public service in her district. She served as a city councilmember and was the first woman elected mayor of San Leandro. Prior to that, she worked as an attorney, community college professor, and civic activist.

Senator Corbett has received numerous awards during her legislative career. In 2008, she was named one of the Top 100 Attorneys in California and an Outstanding Legislator by the California State Sheriffs' Association. Senator Corbett was given the Inspirational Leader Award from Kindango in 2009.

A native Californian, Senator Corbett attended local schools in the East Bay, including Chabot Community College and California State University, Hayward. She graduated from the University of California, Davis and McGeorge Law School. Prior to her legislative career, Senator Corbett practiced civil law.

A Woman's Guide to Breast Cancer Treatment

The California Department of Public Health's Cancer Detection Section has updated its booklet, "A Woman's Guide to Breast Cancer Treatment." The State of California requires that physicians give the booklet to each patient diagnosed with breast cancer. Copies of the booklet are free and can be obtained by faxing a request to the Medical Board of California at (916) 263-2479, or downloading at www.mbc.ca.gov/publications/.

WARNING to physicians and program directors

Don't assist the unlicensed practice of medicine

The Medical Board continues to receive complaints alleging physicians are allowing international medical school graduates to work in their offices treating patients. This practice is only lawful if the scope of the work is no more than a medical assistant would perform.

After individuals graduate from medical school, the law requires them to enter accredited residency training programs to qualify for a California medical license. These training programs are generally in large teaching hospitals, and are accredited by the American Medical Association's Accreditation Council of Graduate Medical Education. Before the trainees qualify for licensure, they cannot "moonlight" or gain experience by participating in an "externship" by working in a physician's private office or clinic. If graduates are unable to gain admission into an accredited training program, they cannot gain clinical experience by working in a physician's private office or clinic performing any duties other than those routinely fulfilled by a medical assistant. They cannot perform as a trainee (in a residency program) nor a physician assistant. International graduates may be employed as medical assistants in a physician's office if they do not represent themselves as medical doctors nor exceed the duties specified in Business and Professions Code section 2069-2071 and Title 16, California Code of Regulations, sections 1366-1366.4.

A recurring problem seen at the Board is physicians writing letters of recommendation for unlicensed international graduates that extol their hands-on clinical patient skills, with the hope of impressing future training program directors. International graduates desire a letter to present to prospective postgraduate training program directors describing their clinical experience in the United States. If the Board advises them that they have to limit their hands-on activities to those that a high school graduate medical assistant can do legally, those activities will not impress future program directors. Inevitably, many international graduates choose to violate the law and engage in the unlicensed practice of medicine, thus putting the supervising physicians at risk of being charged with aiding and abetting the unlicensed practice of medicine.

While the Board understands the desire to assist the international graduate, letters written by physicians that indicate they have allowed the unlicensed international graduate to perform examinations and assist with patient care activities in their offices can result in a charge of aiding and abetting the unlicensed practice of medicine. It is common for recommendation letters to be referred to enforcement to determine whether the author of the letter has allowed an unlicensed individual to treat his or her patients. This could result in either a citation for "aiding and abetting" unlicensed practice, or the author acknowledging that the letter embellished the description of duties performed by the trainee. Neither outcome is desirable.

International graduates, not licensed in California nor formally enrolled in an ACGME-approved postgraduate training program, may not perform any clinical activities beyond the scope of a medical assistant. Unfortunately, individuals seeking clinical experience to enhance their ability to obtain an ACGME-approved postgraduate training program will need to seek such clinical experience outside of California.

The above holds true for U.S. and Canadian graduates not licensed in California nor formally enrolled in an ACGME-approved physician assistant training program. Supervising physicians should be aware not to embellish letters of recommendation that portray the graduates as performing duties above and beyond those that are legally allowed.

Web Applicant Access System

The Medical Board of California launches its new Web Applicant Access System (WAAS)

Initiated on December 1, 2009, this system allows applicants to look up online the status of their application. By entering a secure Web site, applicants are able to view those documents required by the Board for licensure.

The applicant information screen tells the applicant what documents have been received by the Board and what documents are missing. Additionally, files that have been reviewed will reflect documents found to be deficient and ones that have been approved.

The implementation of this system insures that applicants are able to access their application information anytime at their convenience. This is one of many recent system improvements to streamline and expedite the licensing process.

Mandatory physician survey law amended to include newly licensed physicians

Effective January 1, 2010, California law (Business and Professions Code section 2425.3) was amended to require newly licensed physicians to complete the Medical Board's mandatory physician survey. In the past, physicians only were required to complete the survey at the time of their first renewal and each renewal thereafter. The new law requires the Board to collect data from physicians immediately upon issuance of their initial license. The data collected includes activities in medicine, specialty, zip code within California of physicians who are treating patients, training status, ethnicity, and foreign language fluency.

The data is to be used in addressing any identified problems such as specific physician shortages defined by geography, specialty and other key variables and will be invaluable in understanding California's physician workforce needs. Just as important, the data collected from the mandatory questions on the survey will be posted on each physician's online physician profile for consumers and patients to reference when searching for a physician.

Reminder to physicians — To insure the accuracy of your physician profile on the Board's Web site, please check it periodically at www.mbc.ca.gov, click on "Check Your Doctor." If any of the information changes prior to your next renewal, you can simply complete another survey online at www.mbc.ca.gov/licensee/Index.html, click on "Update My Survey" in the upper right corner, and the new information you provide will be available online within 24 hours.

The Payment Error Rate Measurement (PERM) Program

The California Department of Health Care Services (DHCS) wishes to inform all California physicians of an important review being conducted in California by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). As a result of the Improper Payments Information Act, which was enacted by Congress in 2002, CMS conducts the Payment Error Rate Measurement (PERM) review.

The purpose of the PERM is to identify where erroneous payments were made in the Medicaid Programs of all 50 states and report the improper payment estimates to Congress. The Medicaid Program, also known as Medi-Cal in California, has been identified as a program at risk for significant erroneous payments.

CMS has contracted with three federal contractors to perform the review: Livanta, LLC is the Statistical Contractor (SC). Health Data Insights, Inc. and A+ Government Solutions, Inc. are the Review Contractors (RC). These contractors are required to maintain the confidentiality of all documents containing Personal Health Information (PHI). The RC will collect the medical records from the providers via phone, fax and e-mail for the sampled claims and will perform the medical and data processing reviews on the sampled claims to determine if the claims were paid correctly.

Only 500 Medi-Cal claims will be selected in the sample, or approximately 130 claims per quarter, between October 1, 2009 and September 30, 2010. Providers whose medical records have been selected for review will begin receiving requests from the RC for copies of the medical records beginning in August 2010 through February 2011.

Providers also will be required to send a duplicate copy of the medical records requested by the RC to DHCS. The DHCS is taking this proactive step to review the submitted documentation and determine if further information is needed to support the claim. In cases where DHCS determines that the medical records have not been submitted or further information is needed, providers will be contacted by a DHCS representative either by phone or in person to help facilitate obtaining copies of this important documentation.

The DHCS is urging all providers to comply with requests for medical records from the RC and DHCS. Failure to submit the requested medical records by the due date supplied by the RC will result in an error being counted against California, and DHCS will be required to recover the claim payment amount from providers. Your cooperation will help ensure that the payment measurement rate is accurate and that California retains its much-needed federal match monies for the Medi-Cal Program.

Further information about the FY 2010 PERM can be found by viewing the Medi-Cal Update newsletter, March 2010 edition, which is located at www.Medi-Cal.ca.gov. CMS also maintains a PERM Web site located at www1.cms.gov/PERM/. Questions about PERM can be directed to the DHCS e-mail address, which is PERM@dhcs.ca.gov.

Faulty Components in 14 External Defibrillator Models

(Users should seek alternatives, if possible.)

Approximately 280,000 external defibrillators used worldwide may malfunction during attempts to rescue people in sudden cardiac arrest due to faulty components that may fail to properly deliver a shock. Other problems with the affected models may include interruption of electrocardiography (ECG) analysis, failure to recognize electrode pads, and interference or background noise that makes the device unable to accurately analyze heart rhythm.

The 14 models manufactured by Cardiac Science Corp., which include automated and semi-automated devices, are:

Powerheart models 9300A, 9300C, 9300D, 9300E, 9300P, 9390A and 9390E
CardioVive models 92531, 92532 and 92533
Nihon Kohden models 9200G and 9231
GE Responder models 2019198 and 2023440

The FDA recommends that hospitals, nursing homes and other high-risk settings obtain alternative external defibrillators and arrange for the repair or replacement of the affected defibrillators.

For all other users, including those who use the device at home or as part of public access programs, the FDA recommends using alternative external defibrillators, if they are available, and arranging for the repair or replacement of the affected models.

If alternative external defibrillators are not immediately available, then FDA recommends continuing to use the affected devices if needed, because they still may deliver necessary therapy. The potential benefits of using the available external defibrillators outweigh the risk of not using any of the affected external defibrillators or the risk of device failure.

If you suspect any electronic or mechanical problem(s) with an external defibrillator, please file a report through MedWatch. Health care personnel employed by facilities that are subject to FDA's user-facility reporting requirements should follow the reporting procedures established by their facilities.

Alert: Institute for Safe Medication Practices (ISMP)

Name change for heartburn drug Kapidex

Kapidex is now Dexilant. Last year, soon after the proton pump inhibitor Kapidex (dexlansoprazole) was marketed, the FDA and ISMP began to receive reports that Kapidex was being confused with Casodex (bicalutamide), which is used for metastatic prostate cancer. Some errors had the potential to be harmful. For example, one error involved dispensing Casodex instead of Kapidex to a female patient; the drug is contraindicated for women.

Confusion has also been reported between Kapidex and Kadian (morphine sulfate). Both drugs are available as capsules and share a 60 mg strength. Some errors between Kapidex and Casodex happened when Kapidex was spelled as "Capidex," so people searching for Kapidex using the incorrect spelling might happen upon Capadex in error. This may occur more often when Kapidex disappears from Web searches and drug indexes because practitioners might try to find the drug using the wrong spelling. For more information on ISMP, go to www.ismp.org/.

Explanation of disciplinary language and actions

“Effective date of decision”— Example: “March 10, 2010” at the bottom of the summary means the date the disciplinary decision goes into operation.

“Gross negligence”— An extreme deviation from the standard of practice.

“Incompetence”— Lack of knowledge or skills in discharging professional obligations.

“Judicial review pending”— The disciplinary decision is being challenged through the court system, i.e., Superior Court, Court of Appeal, or State Supreme Court. The discipline is currently in effect.

“Probationary License”— A conditional license issued to an applicant on probationary terms and conditions. This is done when good cause exists for denial of the license application.

“Public Letter of Reprimand”— A lesser form of discipline that can be negotiated for minor violations, usually before the filing of formal charges (Accusations). The licensee is disciplined in the form of a public letter.

“Revoked”— The license is canceled, voided, annulled, rescinded. The right to practice is ended.

“Revoked, stayed, five years probation on terms and conditions, including 60 days suspension”— “Stayed” means the revocation is postponed. Professional practice may continue so long as the licensee complies with specified probationary terms and conditions, which, in this example, includes 60 days of actual suspension from practice. Violation of probation may result in the revocation that was postponed.

“Stipulated Decision”— A form of plea bargaining. The case is formally negotiated and settled prior to trial.

“Surrender”— To resolve a disciplinary action, the licensee has given up his or her license — subject to acceptance by the Board.

“Suspension from practice”— The licensee is prohibited from practicing for a specific period of time.
